Breathe

52 Oxygen-Rich Tools for Loving and Living Well with Autism

Breathe is full of nourishment, support and inspiration in the form of short stories, hands-on tools, and inspirational photographs.

Born of Gayle Nobel's life-long journey with autism, Breathe offers powerful, life-tested tools for helping parents thrive, rather than merely survive the lifelong journey of living with autism.

Breathe is the latest addition to the "autism with attitude" toolbox.

It's All About Attitude

It's All About Attitude offers you a new way to see and love the special child you've been given.

Authors Kathy and Gayle, each of whom has raised a son with autism, serve up emotional soul food for parents of children with special needs, no matter the age.

As they learned firsthand, parents facing the challenges of raising a special needs child can transform their lives by changing their attitude - the key to loving and living well with autism and other differences.
